Change an image when a background changes in Android
I'm having trouble changing the image based on the background-color. The image changes when a activity is launched, but the image change doesn't happen while the background-color is changing. Is there anyway I can force this to happen? In my app, a background-image is set via an XML file that loads into a layout. I also have a layout for 570a42141b
